Ludendorff Shows That Occupied Lands Were Thoroughly Exploited For Benefit Of Fatherland

Says He Did a Work of Civilization.—Pursued As Liberal a Policy As Possible in View of Urgent Military Necessities of Germany.

LAI D FOUNDATION OF THE GREAT GERMAN COLONY IN THE BALTIC STATES

Further revelations of his intensive exploitation of conquered lands in the interest of Germany are given today by Ludendorff. Poland and the Baltic provinces today are suffering because of the crushing out of their heavy industries by the German, who took everything that would serve the home land.

Ludendorff, however, has the point of view of the German militarist and feels that all he did was exorable on the ground that he brought a superior culture to backward people and that he could have been even more stern had he desired.

By GENERAL ERICH LUDENDORFF

Vitality must be infused into the administrative system (in the conquered territories) if it was to accomplish useful work. It must not become bureaucratic, but must adapt itself to the needs of the situation. "Precedent" that grave-digger of independent judgment, could not apply here, thank God! We produced a sound organization, well fitted to cope with the heavy demands made upon it.

We gave special attention to the health of the population. We triumphed over spotted fever, which was rampant in many places. It involved heavy sacrifices in deaths.

To pacify the population and give material relief to the country, we made a beginning with the redemption of registration notes issued by the troops during operations. It was a difficult and complicated matter to carry through. From now on we paid for everything in cash. I wanted in that way to help the country and increase its productivity, in my view a very important matter.

It was necessary for us to obtain control of the products of the soil, and to secure the proper management of agriculture and full utilization of the soil. This was all the more difficult, because the population was so small. For example, the district of Ransko only numbered four inhabitants to the square kilometer.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work. People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. They act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood, and purifying the entire system. They do that which calomel does, without any of the bad after effects. Take one or two every night for a week and note the pleasing effect. 10c and 25c a box.

After November 1st The Hoover Will Advance $7.50

This model is the $7.50 size which we now have in stock. And to every housewife who has been thinking of buying a Hoover, "Now is the Time." You may make a payment on one and we will hold it until you are ready for it. The Hoover sweeper is one of the great many things that makes housework a pleasure to the housewife. It does away with the sweeping and beating of carpets, also the saving of sending them to the carpet cleaners to be cleaned. Carpets require more than an electric vacuum cleaning to rid them of their dirt. They should also be electrically beaten, to dislodge embedded grit. They should also be electrically swept to collect stubborn hairs, threads and lint. Only the Hoover performs these three essential cleaning functions. It also is guaranteed to prolong the life of any rug or carpet. That is why the Hoover is the most popular electric cleaner and why you hear it praised so highly by its users. Buy your Hoover before it advances. If you wish to have the Hoover demonstrated to you in your home, call us by phone and we will gladly call and demonstrate it for you.

THE BEST CHOICE IN TOWN IN NEW FALL RUGS

Every possible kind of rug that any homemaker would want is included in our new display of fall rugs. We wanted to make this season's showing the best we ever had and therefore laid plans months and months ago to accomplish just this. The results we achieved surprised us and they will surprise you. We gathered up an extensive collection of remarkably good rugs. Many new colorings and patterns are here to delight rug seekers and with all our prices are so near to those of a year ago that we are sure to dispose of our whole output faster than we anticipated, judging from our patrons' present enthusiasm for this showing. With the 30 per cent advance only three weeks ago we are selling you these rugs at their old prices, not the advance price.

MISS DOLLY WISE

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, news, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

My dear Miss Wise—Received an invitation to a reception lately and for various reasons find I cannot attend. Shall I send my regrets and how soon? There are two hostesses, but I only know one. Also, there are two names in the far corner of the invitation, why are they there? IGNORANT.

The names you speak of are those of the guests of honor. You should either mail or send your cards by someone who is going, or to the hostess at whose home the reception will be held. You see your attendance at a reception or non-attendance will not alter your hostesses' arrangements, as it would if the event were a dinner party or card party in which case you would send a formal note of regret at once.

Dear Miss Wise—Would you please print in your column a recipe for making mince meat with green tomatoes.

HOUSEWIFE.

Green Tomato Mince-meat—One peck of green tomatoes ground fine, drain off juice, put on stove with hot water and boil a few minutes, drain and chop the tomatoes, chop up onion, put on stove and boil slowly for one hour, add 1 1/2 pounds of ground apples, 2 pounds raisins ground, one cup of sugar, four pounds of brown sugar, one tablespoon of salt, two tablespoons of cinnamon, one tablespoon of cloves, one teaspoon of nutmeg, one cup of vinegar, one hour, stir often, then pour into jars, seal with hot water, then jars up to the neck and let stand until cold, then put away for winter use.

Here is another way to make green tomato mince-meat: Take one peck of green tomatoes, chop up onion, put on stove and boil slowly for one hour, add 1 1/2 pounds of sugar, 2 pounds of raisins ground, one cup of vinegar, five cents worth of nutmeg, one tin of lard and seal and it will keep all winter.

Dear Miss Wise—Some time ago I met a soldier and while he was away he wrote to me and now says he'll be very much. I have grown to like him as he is among the best boys I know.

My mother does not allow me to have boy friends and so I go with him on the sly. I am beginning to worry about what people will say. If my mother hears any talk, I know I won't be allowed to go out and I could never forget and give him up. What should I do?

I do not want to go to high school, but am thinking of going to business school. Can I be compelled to go to college?

A YOUNG READER.

You should not go with the young man and if you continue to do so, no matter the circumstances, you will bring unhappiness to yourself. Your mother will surely learn of your desert and then you will lose her confidence and she will not trust you even when you are older.

You need high school and should not think for one minute of finishing your education in a business school. Graduates must pay much higher salaries to girls who have had high school training as well as a business course. They get more and give more thought to their future than a few years' business training will be time well spent and you will never regret your efforts.

You will not be compelled to go to college.

Dear Miss Wise—I am seventeen years of age and will be sixteen next January. My mother insists on my finishing high school at 14 and on my evenings with my boy friends. I am a girl very capable of taking care of myself and whenever I am away from home I am always with a well able friend and around the neighborhood. Do you think that 11:20 is the right time to come in?

I am attending high school and study says I ought to spend my evenings at home studying. I get marks above the average and I do stay home over four nights a week.

ELEVEN-THIRTY.
Your father is quite right insisting that you return home by 11:30. A school girl needs her rest and her nights for study. Your father is far more lenient than some parents.

Dear Mrs. Wise—I have a very dear gentleman friend who is twenty-five years of age and he is keeping company with a woman thirty-one. They seem congenial, but don't you think there is too great a difference in their ages?

The girl has been engaged to a young man who lives out of town and just the same age as my boy friend, but she told my friend that she cares more for him than the other and that she does not want to drop the other party at once, but just stop having him call and correspond less often. What is your opinion?

SMILES.
It is unprofitable to worry or think too much about other people's affairs. There is no law against a couple such as you mention being congenial, and since they are, there is little ground for discussion. Since married people with the wife considerably older, are very happy, while others are not.

I think the woman should tell her former sweetheart that she no longer loves him. Since he thinks she is engaged to him, she has no right to treat him in such a way.

Sentenced To Pen, Welch Creates Scene In Courtroom

What came near to being a serious matter by Judge Goldsberry for larceny occurred in Common Pleas court in Chillicothe Saturday, when Arthur Welch, sentenced to the pen for burglary, threatened to "get" Judge John W. Goldsberry, and tried to cut his action to his words, breaking away from the sheriff and starting for the Judge.

Welch was sentenced to the pen Saturday.

Want to Feel Just Right? — Take an NR Tonight —

JUST TRY IT AND SEE how much better you feel in the morning. That "light," headachy, tired, don't-know-what's-the-matter feeling will be gone — you'll feel fine.

TROUBLE IS, your system is clogged with a lot of impurities that your over-worked digestive and eliminative organs can't get rid of. Pills, oil, salts, calomel and ordinary laxatives, cathartics and purges only force the bowels and prod the liver.

Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) acts on the stomach, liver, bowels and even kidneys, not forcing, but cleansing and strengthening these organs. The result is prompt relief and real, lasting benefit. Make the test. Nature's Remedy will act promptly, thoroughly, yet so mildly, so gently, that you will think nature herself has come to the rescue and is doing the work.

And, what relief! You'll be surprised to find how much better you feel — lighter, freer, more comfortable — after just one box of NR Tablets. It's a relief you can't get from any other medicine. You'll feel just as well as a new man. You'll feel just as well as a new man. You'll feel just as well as a new man.

WOMAN KILLS HERSELF BY DRINKING CARBOLIC ACID

Sandy Springs and Lucia Vista residents were shocked Sunday night by the suicide of Mrs. Fannie Dryden Pitts, a life-long resident of Sandy Springs and vicinity, who took her life Sunday morning by drinking a dose of carbolic acid. Mrs. Pitts lived in her bedroom about 10 o'clock Sunday morning, and when her husband broke open the door about six o'clock last night, he found her lifeless form on the bed.

Mrs. Pitts came home in the spring from the state hospital at Athens and during the summer acted strangely a number of times.

Sunday morning she appeared in her usual good health, but about nine o'clock she asked a member of the family to do something, and when refused she went into her bedroom and locked the door, telling the family to go away and let her alone as she wanted to sleep.

The woman probably drained the poison bottle shortly after going into the room. Dr. Fritzel of Bismarck Vista was called after the body was found and said that she had been dead about seven hours. The left side of her face was badly burned when the fire light had run from her mouth. The body was found clamped in her right hand, the fingers of her hand being burned by the acid.

Mrs. Pitts was about 49 years of age. She was the daughter of Squire Dryden, Dryden, proprietor Sandy Springs farm. Squire Dryden now makes his home in Maryland with his son Vernon. Mr. and Mrs. Pitts have been living on the Dryden farm. The deceased is survived by her husband, James Pitts, a daughter son and a son Clarence, who works at the J. J. J. Manufacturing plant, New Boston. She also leaves her father, a brother, Vernon, of Mayville, and a sister, Mrs. Mary Richards, of West Union. Mrs. Richards was formerly Mrs. Mary Foster of the House Telephone Exchange of this city. Mrs. Dryden died four years ago.

Mrs. Pitts was a member of the Sandy Springs M. E. church.

CANTON MAYOR SUSPENDED

Governor Cox told the committee of Canton business men to go home and appeal to the citizens of Canton to help suppress lawlessness.

"If there is further rioting in Canton," he said, "regardless of whether you as citizens do your duty or not, the troops will be sent from Akron into Canton at once."

Mr. Thacker and Judge Harter said they believed Mayor Pomeroy had done all he could do under the circumstances.

THREAT OF FORCE

The United Mine Workers of America have today that the miners are ready and willing to negotiate a new wage agreement between now and November 1 that will avert the strike.

"We don't know what the week will bring forth," said Ellis Seales, editor of the Mine Workers' Journal, the official publication of the organization. "We do know this: That the miners are ready and willing—and have been—to negotiate a new wage agreement between now and November 1. And we do know that the operators have refused. They have rejected the proposal after proposal."

"Now, if the government would use the same amount of pressure on the operators that it is using on the United Mine Workers of America, there would be no trouble in bringing about a settlement. All pressure, so far, has been on the miners and not on the operators. The government could bring the operators into conference easily, if it wanted to."

"The organized miners do not want to strike—it is a last resort."

Should the strike go into effect next Saturday, Mr. Seales said, every organized bituminous coal miner in the United States would cease the production of coal and a large number of non-organized miners would join the strike.

He estimated that between 500,000 and 600,000 men would walk out, and added that the government estimated that the shut-down would cut off eighty percent of the bituminous coal produced in the United States. The strike, according to Mr. Seales, would affect the partly organized fields of Central Pennsylvania, parts of West Virginia, excluding the Pocahontas field, which is not organized; portions of Eastern Kentucky and Tennessee, Alabama and Colorado and all of the 100 percent organized fields which include Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois, Western Kentucky, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Montana and Washington. Bituminous miners in Canada will not be affected.

Robert Gammon Seeks Divorce

Alleging cruelty and neglect Robert Gammon is seeking a divorce in an action filed in Common Pleas court today through Attorney A. C. Woodrow against Cora Gammon, whom he married July 26 last.

In his bill of complaint Gammon declared the defendant ever since their marriage persisted in absenting herself from their home for days at a time and refuses to give any reason or explanation to him for her conduct and he further asserts that she refused to speak or recognize him in any manner for many days at a time, all to his great distress of mind.

Couple Held on Robbery Charge

Gordon Lewis and his wife, Estu, arrested on a charge of robbing the home of William Cooper, Buck Run farmer, waived examination when arraigned before Judge William M. Manes today and they were bound over to the grand jury under $200 bond each.

A second charge of jumping a board bill, made by Ernest Stratton, of New Boston, Lewis pleaded not guilty and his bond was fixed at $100 in this case. It was alleged that Lewis went under the assumed names of Dillon and Stratton at New Boston.

The bonds were furnished and the couple released from custody.

The Lewises, it is alleged, broke into the Cooper dwelling some weeks ago and stole among other property a shot gun, which, it is said, was found in the ruins of the Lewis home after it burned a few nights ago. The finding of the gun led to the arrest of the couple.

Mustard Will Case Begin

What promises to be one of the most interesting law suits ever heard in Belmont county was called for trial in Common Pleas court at one o'clock today. The case is that of Spicer M. Mustard and others against Charles O. Mustard and others to set aside the will of Madison Mustard, wealthy Brush Creek farmer, who died more than a year ago on the ground that a certain paper purporting to be his last will and which was admitted to probate, was not, in fact, his last will.

Promptly on the opening of the court the work of selecting a jury was started. Judge Thomas is presiding at the trial. More than two score of witnesses were present in court to testify in the case. The attorneys in the case are Theo. K. Funk, C. M. Seale and Harry W. Miller for the plaintiffs and H. E. Kinsale and Blair & Blair for the defense.

Consable Pleads Not Guilty

Frank Double, Washington township constable, appeared before Judge Thomas in Common Pleas court today and pleaded not guilty to an indictment charging him with pointing firearms. Double will be placed on trial before a jury Wednesday at one o'clock.

The alleged offense was committed on Sept. 19, when Double, it is said, during some trouble with Clara Miller and her husband, Andrew, over a bond at State Run, drew his pistol and pointed it at the woman, Double the next day shot and seriously wounded Shirley Miller and the latter had no chance to escape. Double is charged with shooting and beating him. It is claimed the shooting occurred at Newburg and followed a quarrel when young Miller was taken to his parents. Young Miller was shot in the abdomen but he has entirely recovered from the wound.

Case Continued

The case of Nathan Mangus, Winchester young man, charged with non-support, which was assigned to come to trial in Common Pleas court on Oct. 29, was today continued indefinitely by Judge Thomas at the instance of Prosecutor Sheppard, who informed the court that he was not prepared to try the case at this time.

Vote "YES" on the Classification Amendment and Reduce Your Taxes

The Man Opposed to Classification Says: "A man who will lie for Ten Dollars will lie for Ten Cents."

The Fact: In Minnesota in 1910, the last year of the uniform rule in that state, 6,200 persons were returning intangible property for taxation. Under Classification in Minnesota 98,501 persons are returning intangibles for taxation.

The Man Opposed to Classification Says: "Classification will not bring intangible property out of hiding."

The Fact: What other states have done. Notice the increased revenues collected from intangible property:

	Under Uniform Rule	Under Classification
Baltimore	$ 12,000.00	$ 703,000.00
North Dakota	21,849.34	300,496.92
Connecticut	29,452.06	560,000.00
Minnesota	379,754.00	940,900.65
Kentucky	439,604.43	1,601,987.35

The Man Opposed to Classification Says: "Classification is an experiment and will prove a failure in Ohio."

The Fact: Connecticut has had Classification for twenty-eight years. Maryland has had Classification for 20 years. Fourteen states have Classification in their constitutions. Only twelve states have the Uniform Rule. Twenty-two states have constitutions permitting any method of taxation. Most states have discarded the Uniform Rule. No state has ever discarded Classification.

Classification never has proved a failure but if it should prove a failure in Ohio it could be repealed either by the General Assembly or by the people themselves under the power of the Initiative. No change in the constitution would be necessary as the pending Classification amendment merely gives to the General Assembly the right to classify property if it wishes to do so.

The Man Opposed to Classification Says: "By reducing the rates on intangible property under Classification it will be necessary to increase the tax rate on land and homes."

The Fact: The Smith Tax Limit Act prevents an increase in the tax rate on land and homes and always will, unless the Smith Act is repealed by the votes of the people of Ohio. In Kentucky under the Uniform Rule in 1917 owners of homes and farm lands were paying 77 per cent of all taxes collected for state and local purposes. In Kentucky today, under Classification, owners of homes and farm lands are paying only 57 per cent of all taxes collected and the Kentucky State Tax Commission says there will be a further reduction soon.

City man, country man, home owner, wage earner, farmer—all will be benefited by classification of property. The present system is so bad that no system can be worse. Every man should be willing to give Classification a trial.

Gun May Be Good Clue In Robbery

The burglary of the inhabited dwelling of William Cooper farmer, living in the Duck Run vicinity a few weeks ago was revealed last week, according to the officers, through the turning of the home of Golden Lewis at Pleasant Valley, which is near the scene of the robbery.

A shot gun which has been identified by Cooper as having been stolen from him when his home was broken into was found in the ruins of the Lewis home. It is alleged, and on the strength of this evidence Lewis and his wife, Etha, were arrested yesterday and brought to jail by Sheriff Rice.

PINS AWARDED TO C. E. EXPERTS

An unique service was carried out by the Endeavorers of the First Presbyterian church last evening. In the De-velopment and Redirection of their Efficiency Chart. On this Chart, which has a possible perfect score of 360, the society had achieved some time since the mark of 205, granting them the honor of both the red and the silver pins. The pastor, Rev. D. C. Boyd, in a few well chosen remarks voiced the society's appreciation of the work of the past year; then the Chart was demolished by having torn from it the long red line on the thermometer, which showed its past score. Then, while the audience stood, the chart and the society were together dedicated to the "Pamphlet for Efficiency of the current year."

During the latter part of the evening the Expert Class received their recognition, having passed with high marks the examination sent out from State C. E. headquarters, and were awarded the beautiful certificates awarded by the United Society, and signed by the founder of Christian Endeavor, Dr. William E. Clark, and Secretary William Shaw. The pastor awarded the certificates, and also placed upon each expert the beautiful "C. E. E." pin—Christian Endeavor Expert. Mrs. Fred DeBoer has been the loyal and untiring leader of the class, herself the first C. E. Expert in Scioto county, and the class of five: Miss Clara Walker, Miss Ruth Nutter, Miss Page Green, and Charles Benn and Carl Walker, are the first C. E. Expert class ever graduated in the county.

The "Experts" responded later with a number of inspiring talks on the general theme of "Christian Endeavor as a Training School," showing thoroughly that their class had not been wasted. Carl Walker read a clever original poem, voicing appreciation of "Our Teacher."

A sore throat is a good breeding place for diphtheria germs. Protect your children by never neglecting a Sore Throat. You can wisely depend upon TONSILINE. N. & W. Eleven Beats Ashland On Sloppy Field, 6 To 0

Neither Team Able To Put Up Usual Game

The N. & W. football team rang up another victory at Millbrook Sunday when they defeated the fast pick-up team representing Ashland.

The final score was 6 to 0, the touchdown being made during the first two minutes of play by Montgomery, capturing a fumble made by Ashland and sprinting it 45 yards for the goal posts.

The game was quite slow, owing to the sloppy field and numerous fumbles made by the Ashland team. Forward passes were attempted by both teams, but without success.

The defensive of the local eleven was held like a stone wall, but the backfield was unable to get away for any large gains, owing to the condition of the field.

In the second quarter of the game, the N. & W. team with a 25 yard run and would have likely rung the bell for another 6 points had the field been in good shape.

A quite a large crowd was out to see the local boys battle with the Kenosha lads.

Manager Putzke has arranged to bring the fast Columbus All Star team to Portsmouth next Sunday and no doubt the local gridiron fans have a rare treat in store for them, as the Columbus aggregation is known as one of the strongest football teams in Ohio, having held the championship of Columbus for three consecutive years.

Parkersburg Scribe Says P. H. S. Has Strong Team

PARKERSBURG, Oct. 27.—The Big Reds added Portsmouth to their list of victims for this season when they defeated the Ohio eleven Saturday afternoon by the ample total of 31 to 0. The crowd at yesterday's contest was even larger than that of the preceding Saturday and, due to the new heated wire fence, there was no crowding on the playing field. The field was fairly fast but soft in spots and made open field running hazardous.

Captain Farrell won the toss and decided to defend the east goal. The home town griders started with a rush and carried the ball down the field on successive line plunges until with a few forward passes, just five minutes after the whistle blew, sharp line plunges, Jack Armstrong drove over the line for the first score. From then on the game was a continued parade of red jerseyed athletes down the field with a few interceptions when Portsmouth tightened its defense and punted back.

As in the other games the local stars have played this season it was the rushing attack of the backs that put the game on the right side of the ledger. Kelley showed in his usual stellar role as an open field runner. Jack Armstrong was the individual star of the contest and it was his end running, shunting line plunging, and everything else that a real football player does that made the difference for the Big Reds. Coach Bill had instituted the innovation of having Armstrong call the signals from his position at halfback and Jack used excellent judgment, never failing to call the right play at the right time. Running played the best football he has exhibited so far this season and surprised admirers of the team who heretofore have been inclined to overlook his merits because of the more spectacular performances of his backfield mates. In the third quarter, Armstrong ran through the entire Portsmouth team for twenty yards and whenever he got well under way it took about three of the opposition to stop him. He also proved effective when the locals used the variation of the Minnesota shift which he exhibited for the first time yesterday. The whole backfield has improved after the whistle blew, sharp line plunges, Jack Armstrong drove over the line for the first score. From then on the game was a continued parade of red jerseyed athletes down the field with a few interceptions when Portsmouth tightened its defense and punted back.

An effort will be made to secure a larger hall for the match between Fox and Varza, if the Cleveland can arrange to return in December. He stated that he could probably arrange to be back late in the month, but would not make positive arrangements until after his return home.

The preliminaries to the Fox-Varza match were very good, the bout between Paul Schreck and James George being one of the best prelims staged yet. Both these boys have been working hard lately and want another chance at each other next week, when they will go to a finish, two falls out of three.

Young Herman, who gave Varza such a tussle here a few weeks ago, is now in Oxford, N. C. Herman was a good clean little wrestler, as clean as they make them, and made a lot of friends while here. He is matched to meet his old rival, Joe Turner, next month.

A letter has been received at The Times office from William Demott, the famous Greek wrestler, in which he states that he would like a match with Varza or any other local man, Demott weighs about 155 pounds and says he thinks he can blow Varza twice in an hour. If possible, a match will be made between these two, as the Greek will have an open date during the first week of November.

The number of ladies attending the matches is very gratifying to the promoters and every effort will be made to provide for their comfort.

Young Sanlow, who meets Varza Tuesday night, displayed some of his wonderful strength at The Times office the other day handling six and seven hundred pound rolls of paper like an ordinary man would handle a basket of coal. Sanlow is also a fairly big runner.

Several people have asked about Charles E. Fox, who wrestled Varza here last Tuesday night. Fox is an American born and was raised in the vicinity of Cleveland. His parents were from Serbia, having come to this country over forty years ago. Charles is 29 years of age and has been married nine years. He is the father of three children, two boys and a girl, and the boys, now six and seven years old, are as keen on wrestling as their father is. A few weeks ago they put on a preliminary bout in a Detroit theatre, where their father was matched, and the audience was so delighted with the performance that they showered the youngsters with coins. The boys got $10.00 for their display of skill. Fox is a personal friend of several years standing of M. P. O'Mara, who refereed the last Tuesday, and has promised, if he comes again to bring the boys here for a visit, in which event they will put on a ten minute exhibition.

Joe Willis, the Detroit man who met defeat at Varza's hands a couple of weeks ago, has since then won two good matches in West Virginia.

The few weeks which Mrs. Finney has been working on the Juniors has shown splendid results; and they will be heard from again in the near future. Mr. Robert M. THE LAGGARD COMING FORTH

General Crowder expresses it, a torrential flow of accusations, impugning the motives of men, until the real issue had become obscured. It began with and rose in tide until the conclusion of the war. Indeed, there is little subsidence a year afterwards.

So far congressional investigation has gone into those affecting the immediate conduct of the armies, the facts appear to be diametrically opposed to accusations. Excessive, cruel and unusual punishments were not inflicted. To the contrary, discipline appears to have been enforced in forms that were unusual in their mildness from the military standpoint. Not a single death penalty was inflicted for what was regarded as solely military infractions. Such soldiers as were shot and very few were, for violation of the rules and regulations of war, suffered the extreme penalty only in those cases where the civil law called for their execution. Stiff sentences of imprisonment were frequently imposed, but these were so modified by release and pardon for good conduct that the average confinement was reduced to a less number of months than the average sentence was for years.

Not every soldier was inspired by the most glowing patriotism and the loftiest motives, even during the course of hostilities. Individuals had their vices, their rivalries and their ambitions. Circles and coteries of officers had their clashes, envies and disappointments and if these were scratched might be found the first source of those tales, so derogatory to the army, that for a time swept over the country. Truth, however, is on her way and the real facts will sometime be made known.

TURNING BACK THE CLOCK

At time ended Sunday morning at two o'clock and at that hour the hands of the clock were everywhere turned back to railroad time which for the purpose of utility divided the country into four time divisions, eastern, central, mountain and western, or Pacific. Ohio generally, is in central zone and so generally about half an hour behind actual sun time.

The innovation of setting the hands an hour ahead had been agitated for sometime, climaxed when congress, as a war measure, ordered the action.

Strangely enough, the change, which had been commonly regarded indifferently, or emphatically opposed, attained wide popularity and seemed to be a perpetual policy. Equally strange, the country all at once split into two opposing parts when a lobby from the granges appeared at Washington on the heels of the summer and claiming to speak for the farmers, demanded repeal. The cities promptly rallied to defense and a contest from which much bitterness arose, ensued. Congress passed a repeal, only to have it vetoed by President Wilson but his veto was overridden and repeal made an established fact.

The worst feature of the matter is that we will have a revival of it every session of congress.

General Ike Sherwood would have an investigation all his own so he would have congress inquire where Pershing was during the war. Everybody else in the United States thinks he knows, but Uncle Ike doesn't. Evidently he thinks he knows where he should have been, at the front, and where he should be now, as he says Pershing never was at the front and during the civil war 121 generals were killed on the front. Name will agree with him. General Pershing "heckel" 'em and nothing else matters not even how he did it.

Having got her hand in on base ball, Ohio is now turning into showing them how football should be played. State University triumphed Michigan handsomely enough Saturday, and that about tells the tale.

SHE MARRIED AN AVERAGE MAN

I suppose it's "just like a woman," wind up their joint affairs, but now that that horrid Belton episode and my outburst to Jim are over, I almost wish I hadn't made such a fuss about it.

My point being carried, my victory being complete, I would be glad to have the thing end there. But Jim is thoroughly roused to Belton's untrustworthiness, and says he will dissolve the partnership as soon as they can get on their feet again. Besides, a man who can't be trusted with a good woman, can't be trusted with anything.

Which was precisely what I myself had told Jim more than once, but he said it as if he only that moment discovered it as a profound truth and voiced it for the first time. Men do not absorb wisdom from women; they have to reach it by their own cumbersome methods of logic and experience.

"Are you quite satisfied, then, to break with Belton, Jimmie? You won't regret it afterward?"

"I am quite satisfied, Ann," he repeated, and I am sure he meant it.

"Belton is not a prepossessing man, anyhow—in business, I mean. People don't take to him. I've liked him because I thought he'd be a good ally, if not a charm, and a thoroughly honorable conception of business ethics. It's awfully honest, even in the smallest matters."

I made no answer, thinking that people often satisfy their consciences with trivialities while they violate every honest principle in important things.

Also Jim's reference to Belton's not being "a prepossessing man" stuck in my mind.

I wonder if he had been attractive, how would I have felt about his attentions? It never occurred to me before.

He let me ask myself candidly that question. Imagining Belton to be tall, slender and good-looking instead of fatish, partly bald and with little piggy brown eyes that looked, with little have angrily resented his admiration?

"Does a woman ever resent being looked upon with interest, tenderness, even passion, by a personable man? Does she not rather resent not gaining power over him? There is that illustration, for instance, at Athens, Hasty's husband, the other day. I didn't like him. Yet, in the last analysis I perceive he showed no special interest in me."

Why did I like the portrait painter? I told myself it was because he is an intelligent man, capable, successful, pleasant mannered. But he asked to paint my picture; I can't get away from that!

If he had touched my arm as Belton did; if he had bent his gaze upon me with half-closed eyes, like the nasty little Belton did; if he had called me "dear, sweet, wonderful little woman"—would I have been so fastidious?—I wonder.

However, Belton will soon be out of our lives. Jim's talent and money will be better invested with some one else, or alone.

New - York - Day - By - Day

BY
O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—A page from the diary of a modern Samuel Pepys, tip and to the Augusta Tavern, a child first being in the air, and rapped smartly at the door of Subh. Ranji, the Indian painter, a man of profound erudition and both the skin of sea parchment and a certain exotic culture that charmed. I felt like a butterfly.

And in especially when he dropped into French albeit I made a brave show of my slight knowledge when he inquired of my daily walks and I replied, "Your passer to loupes." So neat it was that I rushed home to tell my wife, "Poor fellow, he's a French phrase 'I know,' it fitted in nicely. There to my dentist who hurt me not at all."

Home where I went to the basement and had a merry discourse with the furnace man and young Tom, the package and lift boy, as I now-days often do, finding them likable and companionable. I write a letter this day to my nearest maker who has overcharged me and it was signed with you and now I am sorry.

Through the town finding much extravagance among all classes and met it. With the British pamphleteer, a good humorist fellow. All the talk of Lord Woolsey and the hope he may soon be restored. Mistress Belton came to tell she had lost her position and my wife wept and I did too and I am so awkward at asking favors that I know not how to get her a place, yet I am resolved to try.

All the evening, putting about my typewriter which strikes badly and got ink and all over my shirt and waistcoat and was so exasperated by my wife that I went to bed sulking and talked not at all.

There is now joy in life over on the East Side. Everybody has been glooming around over the war and the high cost of everything. The Y. M. C. A. decided that the East Side needed something—up they were having too much work and not enough play. And so the idea for a neighborhood song service was born. A motor truck was equipped with a piano and stereophone. The song leader simply asks everybody to sing. At first they are shy, but soon they get the spirit. After a while at the old time songs, the leader, with the

IN THE DAY'S NEWS

REAR ADMIRAL CASEY B. MORGAN

The man who has the distinction of having commanded transports that carried 50,000 soldiers to France and back again without accident to a ship or injury to a man has just been raised in rank. Captain Casey B. Morgan, U. S. N., D. S. M., a few days ago became Vice Admiral Morgan.

Admiral Morgan has the satisfaction of looking backward over a peculiarly useful service in the war. He was one of the first officers ordered to sea when the United States declared war against Germany, and he took command of the Sixth Squadron of the patrol force with headquarters at Hampton Roads. This force was designed to protect the coast against submarine raids expected, but when it became apparent that no subs were to be sent to this side of the Atlantic, the force was dissolved. In June, 1917, Admiral Morgan was ordered to command the Agamemnon, formerly celebrated as the fast liner Kaiser Wilhelm II, which had become a part of the new transport force which was to become such a credit to the American navy. Admiral N. G. G. Morgan commanded this force with distinguished ability, and Captain Morgan throughout the period of the war was Admiral G. G. G.'s right hand man. As commander of the Agamemnon, Morgan made numerous round trips from New York and Hampton Roads to West and to British ports, conveying thousands of American fighting men and often entrusted with the lives of members of the governments of the allies and of the United States.

Subsequently he became force transport officer on the staff of Admiral G. G. G. at Hoboken, and as such directed the movements of hundreds of transports and supply ships crisscrossing the ocean in support of the military power of the United States. Then the great German liner Lusitania, so long held up at Hamburg, and only a few hundred tons smaller than the U. S. Leviathan, was put into commission under the American flag, and to Morgan fell the honor of being her first American commander.

Admiral Morgan was graduated from the Naval Academy with the class of '88, having a record, therefore, of thirty-five years in the navy. He fought with Dewey at Manila Bay as an officer of the Raleigh.

U. S. AVIATORS MURDERED BY MEXICAN FISHERMEN

SAN DIEGO, CAL., Oct. 27.—Plans for an expedition today in Lower California, Mexico, as well as in Washington, looking for the arrest of the Mexican fishermen accused of murdering U. S. aviators. The expedition is being organized by Major Frederic Waterhouse, American aviator, who flew into Mexican territory on August 21, and subsequently lost his life.

It was officially announced here last night that Lieutenants Cecil H. Connelly of San Diego and Frederick B. Waterhouse, of Weiser, Idaho, among others missing since August 21, were slain in Lower California by two Mexican fishermen.

The announcement was made upon the arrival here of the destroyer Aaron Ward bringing the bodies of the two aviators from Bahia on the Gulf of Mexico, California, to which point they had flown after losing their way in a boat patrol flight from Yuma, Arizona, to San Diego.

According to Major R. S. Bratton, head of the military party sent from here to recover the bodies, the slayers were from a Mexican ship, their identity known to the United States and Mexican governments and steps are being taken to capture them.

The destroyer also brought a story of the sufferings endured by the young aviators in the form of notes scrawled upon the wings and fuselage of the biplane and airplane in which Connelly and Waterhouse made their last flight. Some of these messages, which were written when the aviators had almost lost hope of being found, were of such a tragic nature that Major Bratton asked the newspaper reporters to refrain from using them, out of consideration for the officers' families.

Major Bratton said that the two aviators had gone nineteen days without food, or at least without much to sustain them. The fate that drove them from their air path remained with them until the last. Major Theodore MacAuley, in one of his flights to find them, flew within 60 miles of the spot where they stood guarding their plane. Later, on the afternoon of September 6, they were landed from a canoe on the shores of Bahia, Los Angeles, by the same fishermen who are accused of having killed them five days later, and at that time were only twelve miles from Los Flores silver mine, where they might have received protection and food.

One of the messages, scratched on the airplane fuselage with a knife or nail, said the aviators remained in the air four hours and five minutes, that they ran into a rain storm and lost their sense of direction. When they sighted the Gulf of California, they thought they were flying up the coast instead of southward along the east coast of the Gulf of California.

Another message, traced on the wings and fuselage, told how the aviators attempted vainly for two days to catch fish to appease their hunger. They then started walking northward toward the border but returned to their airplane in thirty-six hours when their supply of water became exhausted. The aviators drank the water from the radiator of their plane. This proved sufficient to allay their thirst up to the time they were taken to Bahia, Los Angeles, from Guadalupe Bay, where the plane landed, by the fishermen.

ATTEMPT TO BURN POLICE SUB-STATION

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 27.—An attempt, believed to have been by strike sympathizers, was made last night to burn down the police substation in Hazelton, this city. An upper room in the building was discovered burning with oil soaked waste scattered about, but before the damage to the room was done, a neighbor told the police he had heard gun in the yard talking about waste and saying it was time to burn.

Two additional blast furnaces were on this morning, one at the Ohio works and one at the sheet and tube plant. More open hearths were put in commission and in all parts of town new faces were seen going to work. At a political meeting in Jule Hall last night the strikers demanded that Mayor Weaver remove the police from that section and let them keep order. Elsewhere threats have been made against members of the American Legion, who are helping the city and the ex-soldiers are asking the right to carry firearms.

U. S. CONSULAR AGENT RELEASED BY BANDITS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 27.—William O. Jenkins, the American consular agent at Puebla, who was kidnapped October 19, by Mexican bandits, was released after payment of ransom, the state department was advised today by the American embassy at Mexico City.

The bandits who held Jenkins had demanded $150,000 in gold. The message to the department said that Matthew E. Hanna, third secretary of the embassy, who was sent to Puebla, reported yesterday that he had received a message from Jenkins sent from within the Mexican federal lines that the ransom had been paid to the kidnappers and that he would be on his way to Puebla.

HANFORD, CAL., Oct. 27.—William O. Jenkins, American consular agent at Puebla, Mexico, and wealthy manufacturer, probably was at liberty today after being abducted and held a week by three masked Mexican bandits for a ransom of $150,000.

Word that he had been rescued from the bandits was received last night by his father, John W. Jenkins, of this city, in a brief telegram from Miss Anna Jenkins, sister of the consular agent.

The message did not indicate whether any portion of the ransom demanded had been paid or whether the efforts of the Mexican government in response to urgent demands of the American state department had effected the release. It read:

"Oscar was released this afternoon. Advice relatives."

Although Jenkins was kidnapped on October 19, news of his abduction did not reach his family here until last Wednesday, when a telegram was received from his sister. Later word came from her that besides kidnapping Mr. Jenkins, the bandits who held him for ransom had also plundered his ranch house, securing $30,000.

"The exact date of Mr. Jenkins' release was not disclosed. His sister's message, telephoned here from Fresno, said 'today' but the date of the message was not telephoned, the consular agent's father said, and whether his detention had ended Saturday or Sunday was not known.

Mr. Jenkins' father, in a statement given out here the day after the news of the kidnapping was received, said the ransom demanded by the bandits would be paid. However, he applied to the state department and California officials for assistance in securing his son's release. It was the second time the consular agent had been held for ransom, his relatives having been forced to pay $25,000 to a band of bandits five years ago under somewhat similar circumstances.

Mr. Jenkins, who is 41 years old, has been in Mexico for 18 years. He conducts a large mercantile business and is also engaged extensively in manufacturing at Puebla. With him at the time of his abduction, were his wife, two daughters and a sister. Some of the measures inaugurated by the Mexican government for the American consular release were said to have been directed personally by President Carranza.

COAL MINERS HAVE NOT YET PREPARED REPLY TO PRESIDENT'S DEMANDS

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., Oct. 27.—John L. Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers of America, at his home here was not prepared early today to define the attitude of his organization toward the statement made Saturday by President Wilson that the strike of bituminous coal workers set for November 1, if carried out, would not only be unjustifiable, but unlawful.

Mr. Lewis reiterated his statement that the sixty percent increase in wages demanded by the miners is "subject to negotiations are all demands of the men," but added that the situation was in "status quo." He said he meant to rest a day before going to Indianapolis, where a meeting of the international executive board of the United Mine Workers of America has been called for next Wednesday. At that meeting, called primarily to formulate details of the strike, Mr. Lewis said a reply to President Wilson's statement regarding the proposed walk out, in all probability would be made.

SCORES INJURED IN NEW YORK RIOTING

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Scores of persons were injured in a pitched battle between 2,000 striking longshoremen and several hundred men who were on their way to work at the Bush terminal docks in Brooklyn this morning. Between fifty and one hundred revolver shots were fired, and sticks, stones, bricks and clubs were used by the combatants. Police reserves were summoned and ten arrests were made.

The disturbance occurred at Third street and Second avenue, Brooklyn, and raged along both streets for two blocks before it was quelled by the police, who used their clubs freely. One policeman was struck on the head with a brick and seriously injured.

The ten men arrested were badly beaten and had their wounds dressed by police surgeons. Two of them taken to the hospital. Others wounded in the fighting were taken away by friends.

Four of the men arrested were charged with felonious assault and carrying concealed weapons and the others with disorderly conduct.

SPAIN FACES NATION-WIDE LOCKOUT

MADRID, Sunday, Oct. 26.—(By the Associated Press)—More than a million persons (throughout Spain) will be thrown out of employment Tuesday, November 4, if the decision of the congress of Spanish employers at Barcelona, declaring for a lock-out, is carried out. In Barcelona alone 200,000 men and women will be affected by the decision.

Members of the employers' congress say the decision was taken as a protest against industrial unrest in Spain.

OPENING STOCKS

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Stocks were strongly supported at the active opening of today's session, the recovery in many instances attaining almost historic dimensions. Traders were disposed to disregard the labor crisis and sought chiefly of those issues which sustained greatest improvement during last Saturday's notable depression.

Within the first half hour prices of 2 to 12 1/2 points were registered by leading metals, oils, equipments, steels and several of the investment funds. Many specialties shared in the rise, the short interest covering precipitately.

POINDEXTER OUT FOR THE PRESIDENCY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Senator Miles Poindexter of Washington, in a statement to the people of the United States announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for President, and presented a platform of policies and principles which he will advocate in his campaign.

The Washington Senator in his statement of policy denounced threats of labor leaders to tie up the railroad as "government by terror" for a "special class" and declared that the government must be made supreme to both capital and labor, though insisting that the just claims of labor should be recognized.

Communism, Senator Poindexter declared, is inconsistent with the vested rights of the laborer to his wages. Treating of international matters, the platform remarks that the "process of making a 'supreme sacrifice' of American and of joining our fortunes with the fortunes of men everywhere should be stopped."

In making his statement of principles, Senator Poindexter, who is the first publicly announced candidate for the Republican nomination, asserted that his announcement of policy makes it necessary for the Republican national convention in 1920 to stand by his platform, should he be chosen as the party's standard bearer.

TROOPS IN KNOXVILLE TO CHECK RIOTS

KNOXVILLE, TENN., Oct. 27.—With national guard troops held in readiness to quell any attempts at renewed rioting, street railway officials announced today they would endeavor to maintain service with non-union men, resumption of which yesterday, after eight days' illness due to a strike, resulted in intermittent clashes throughout the day. Two military companies were here and others were en route under orders of Governor Roberts.

Charges of inefficiency on the part of the police, who are members of the police union, were made following the disorders. No serious injuries were reported, the trouble being confined to minor disturbances in various parts of the city, in which cars were wrecked.

It was pointed out that as the cars carry mail boxes, interference with the operation of the system would involve the federal government.

Knechtly & Knechtly
CHIROPRACTORS

CANTON, O., Oct. 27.—Need for state troops now mobilized at Akron, only twenty miles distant, to take charge of the steel strike situation here, which last week resulted in many riots in which workmen were injured, appeared to be decreasing this morning.

No disturbances had occurred this morning during the changing of shifts at the plants. Colonel John M. Hingham and Major Walter Van Gieson, personal representatives of Governor Cox, made a tour of the strike zones early this morning. They reported everything quiet and said they would make such a report to the governor.

The governor's representatives stated that local authorities now appeared to have the situation tolerably well in hand and that state troops probably will not be needed unless the situation grows much worse than they found it this morning. They had but one criticism to make. That was on the disposition of patrolmen in the strike zones. They found, they said, sections which apparently needed officers without them, while in other sections in which no disorder was likely to occur, well supplied with officers.

Major Van Gieson, in civil life, is in charge of the motorcycle squad of the Columbus police force.

Workmen in considerable numbers were seen entering the plants of both the United Alloy Steel Corporation and the Stark Rolling Mill Company. The few pickets on duty did not attempt to prevent the men from entering the plants and appeared to be content in ascertaining the number of workmen entering. There was no disorder last night.

Local, county and state officials expressed the opinion, if this day passed without any serious disorders, the crisis of the steel strike here will have passed. The officials were encouraged by a report, said to have come from reliable sources, that the United Alloy Corporation has enough workmen inside the plants to operate all departments full force and intends to keep them in the plants until the situation clears.

Leaders among the strikers at the plant of the Stark Rolling Mill company say several workmen entered the plants yesterday prepared to stay there for some time.

N. & W. Eleven Beats Ashland On Sloppy Field, 6 To 0

Neither Team Able To Put Up Usual Game

The N. & W. football team rang up another victory at Millbrook Sunday when they defeated the fast platoon of Ashland 6 to 0.

The final score was 6 to 0, the touchdown being made during the first two minutes of play by Montgomery, by capturing a fumble made by Ashland and springing it 45 yards for the goal posts.

The game was quite slow, owing to the sloppy field and numerous fumbles made by the Ashland team. Forward passes were attempted by both teams, but without success.

The defensive of the local eleven was held like a stone wall, but the backfield was unable to get away for any large gains, owing to the condition of the field.

In the second quarter of the issue Perkins got away with a 25 yard run and would have likely rung the bell for another 6 points had the field been in good shape.

Quite a large crowd was out to see the local boys battle with the Kenricky lads.

Manager Putzick has arranged to bring the fast Columbus All Star team to Portsmouth next Sunday and no doubt the local platoon fans have a rare treat in store for them, as the Columbus aggregation is known as one of the strongest football teams in Ohio, having held the championship of Columbus for three consecutive years.

Every Red Is Looking For Increase In Salary

The managerial of the Cincinnati Reds will not send out the 1920 contracts until after the new year has been observed in this statement being issued several days ago.

Owing to the fact that the Reds cupped the pennant and then won the highest baseball honor from the White Sox will result in every man on the team getting a raise in salary.

This is hardly news as McGraw is said a statement several weeks ago stating that the erratic third sacker was on the market. Zimmerman and a bundle of kate may go to St. Louis for Hornsby.

Base Stealing Records

Not in years was the base-stealing in the National league so poor as it was during the 1919 season. No really respectable records were made, the showing of the sprinters being lamentable at all stages. There were two good reasons: Fewer men were getting on bases, because of the fine control of the pitchers, and the catchers were throwing with wonderful precision.

Records of the first fifteen base-runners:

When approached by a Times reporter, Coach Robert C. In view of the fact that Parkersburg outplayed the P. H. S. eleven and was much faster on the offensive.

THE LAGGARD COMING FORTH

As General Crowder expresses it, a torrential flow of accusations, impugning the motives of men, until the real issue had become obscured, began with and rose in tide until the conclusion of the war. Indeed, there is little subsidence a year afterwards.

So far congressional investigation has gone into those affecting the immediate conduct of the armies, the facts appear to be diametrically opposed to accusations. Excessive, cruel and unusual punishments were not inflicted. To the contrary, discipline appears to have been enforced in forms that were unusual in their mildness from the military standpoint. Not a single death penalty was inflicted for what was regarded as solely military infractions. Such soldiers as were shot and very few were, for violation of the rules and regulations of war, suffered the extreme penalty only in those cases where the civil law called for their execution. Stiff sentences of imprisonment were frequently imposed, but these were so modified by release and pardon for good conduct that the average confinement was reduced to a less number of months than the average sentence was for years.

Not every soldier was inspired by the most glowing patriotism and the loftiest motives, even during the course of hostilities. Individuals had their vices, their rivalries and their ambitions. Circles and coteries of officers had their cliques, envies and disappointments and if these were scratched might be found the first source of those tales, so derogatory to the army, that for a time swept over the country. Truth, however, is on her way and the real facts will sometime be made known.

TURNING BACK THE CLOCK

WAR time ended Sunday morning at two o'clock and at that hour the hands of the clock were everywhere turned back to railroad time which for the purpose of utility divided the country into four time divisions, eastern, central, mountain and western, or Pacific. Ohio generally, is in central zone and so generally about half an hour behind actual sun time.

The innovation of setting the hands an hour ahead had been anticipated for sometime, climaxed when congress, as a war measure, ordered the action.

Strangely enough, the change, which had been commonly regarded indifferently, or emphatically opposed, attained wide popularity and seemed to be a perpetual policy. Equally strange, the country all at once split into two opposing parts when a lobby from the granges appeared at Washington on the heels of the summer and claiming to speak for the farmers, demanded repeal. The cities promptly rallied to defense and a contest from which much bitterness arose, ensued. Congress passed a repeal, only to have it vetoed by President Wilson but his veto was overridden and repeal made an established fact.

The worst feature of the matter is that we will have a revival of it every session of congress.

General Ike Sherwood would have an investigation all his own so he would have congress inquire where Pershing was during the war. Everybody else in the United States thinks he knows, but Uncle Ike doesn't. Evidently he thinks he knows where he should have been, at the front, and where he should be now, as he says Pershing never was at the front and during the civil war 121 generals were killed on the front. None will agree with him. General Pershing "licked 'em and nothing else matters not even how he did it.

Having got her hand in on base ball, Ohio is now turning into showing them how football should be played. State University trounced Michigan handsomely enough Saturday, and that about tells the tale.

SHE MARRIED AN AVERAGE MAN

I suppose it's "just like a woman," wind up their joint affairs. For now that horrid Belton over and my outburst to Jim are over, I almost wish I hadn't made such a fuss about it. My going being carried, my victory being awarded, I would be glad to have the thing end there. But Jim is thoroughly roused to Belton's untrustworthiness, and says he will dissolve the partnership as soon as they can.

POLLY AND HER PALS

can't be trusted with a good woman. He let me ask myself carefully that question. Imagining Belton to be tall, slender and good-looking instead of fatish, partly bald and with little piggy brown eyes that looked would have ungently to catch his admiration. Does a woman ever resent being looked upon with interest, tenderness, even passion, by a personable man? Does she not rather reward not giving power over him? There is that ill-temper, for instance, at Athens East's luncheon the other day. I didn't like him. Yet, in the last analysis I perceive he showed no special interest in me. Why did I like the portrait painter? I told myself it was because he is an intelligent man, capable, serious, full, pleasant mannered. But he asked to paint my picture. I can't get away from that! If he had looked my arm as Belton did, if he had bent his gaze upon me with half-closed eyes, like the nasty little Belton did, if he had called me "dear, sweet, wonderful little woman"—would I have been so fastidiously made? I wonder. However, Belton will soon be out of our lives. Jim's talent and money will be better invested with some one else, or none.

New York Day - By - Day
BY
O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—A page from the diary of a modern Samuel Pepys: the Broadway life and old playgrounds up and to the Audon tavern, a child may switch from "Farmer in the Dell" from being in the air, and rapped to sing "The Camp" and "Lullaby" sweetly at the door of Salsb's Banjo, the blues, to which they dance the shimmy-lullaby, a man of profound and erudition and both the skin of sea parchment and a certain exotic culture that charmed. I felt like a butterfly.

And in especially when he dropped into French when I made a large show of my slight knowledge when he laughed at my daily walks and I replied "Four passer le temps." So next it was that I rushed home to tell my wife, poor wretch. It being the only French phrase I know, it fitted in nicely. Thence to my dentist who hurt me not at all.

Home where I went to the basement and had a merry discourse with the furnace man and young Tom, the punk and lift boy, as I now-days often do, flailing them likable and omnipotent. I write a letter this day to my sartorial maker who has overcharged me and it was spiced with venom but now I am sorry.

"Through the town finding much extravagance among all classes and met J. Walpole, the British pamphleteer, a good humored fellow. All the talk is of Lord Woodford and the hope he may soon be restored. Mistress Pettison came to tell she had lost her position and my wife went and I did too and I am so awkward at asking favors that I know not how to get her a place, yet I am resolved to try.

All the evening, putting about my typing machine which strikes badly and got ink and oil over my shirt and waistcoat and was so soiled by my wife that I went to bed, sinking and lashed at not all.

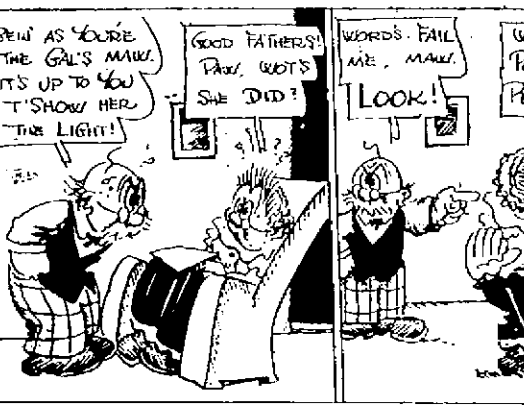

There is new joy in life over on the East Side. Everybody has been glooming around over the war and the high cost of everything. The Y. M. C. A. decided that the East Side needed relieving up—they were having too much work and not enough play. And so the idea for a neighborhood song service was born. A motor truck was equipped with a piano and stereophones. The song leader simply asks everybody to sing. At first they are shy, but soon they get the spirit. After a while at the old time songs, the leader, with the

REAR ADMIRAL CASEY B. MORGAN
The man who has the distinction of having commanded transports that carried 50,000 soldiers to France and back again without accident to a ship or injury to a man has just been raised in rank. Captain Casey B. Morgan, U. S. N., D. S. M., a few days ago became Vice Admiral Morgan.

Admiral Morgan has the satisfaction of looking backward over a peculiarly successful service. In the year 1914 was one of the first officers ordered to sea when the United States declared war against Germany, and he took command of the Sixth Squadron of the period, force with headquarters at Hampton Roads.

This force was dedicated to protect the coast against submarine raids expected, but when it became apparent that no such were to be sent to this side of the Atlantic, the force was dissolved. In June, 1917, Admiral Morgan was ordered to command the Acagemann, formerly celebrated as the fast liner Kaiser Wilhelm II, which had become a part of the new transport force which was to become such a credit to the American navy.

Admiral N. Gleaves commanded this force with distinguished ability, and Captain Morgan throughout the period of the war was Admiral Gleaves's right hand man. As commander of the Acagemann, Morgan made numerous round trips from New York and Hampton Roads to West and to British ports, conveying thousands of American fighting men and often entrusted with the lives of members of the governments of the allies and of the United States.

Subsequently he became force transport officer on the staff of Admiral Gleaves at Hoboken, and as such directed the movements of hundreds of transports and supply ships crisscrossing the ocean in support of the military power of the United States. Then the great German liner Imperator, so long tied up at Hamburg, and only a few hundred tons smaller than the U. S. Leviathan, was put into commission under the American flag, and to Morgan fell the honor of being her first American commander.

Admiral Morgan was graduated from the Naval Academy with the class of '88, having a record, therefore, of thirty-five years in the navy. He fought with Dewey at Manila Bay as an officer of the Raleigh.
